

MATINEE IDOLS

Pay homage to twentieth-century style icons with revamped classics from the archives of Fendi, Gucci, and Louis Vuitton

Monogram canvas bag, LOUIS VUITTON, $1,065, call 866-VUITTON

FAIR LADY

Louis Vuitton's monogrammed Speedy first achieved star status in the 1950s when spotted in Audrey Hepburn's grasp; the latest iteration, the Bandoulière, is messenger style with a cross-body strap.

Coral patent leather-trim bag, FENDI, price on request, call 212-759-4646

GO PLATINUM
Relaunched by Frida Giannini for Gucci this fall, the Jackie bag was also a mainstay on the arm of Barbra Streisand, seen here on a 1969 trip to London.

Crocodile bag, GUCCI, price on request, visit gucci.com

SOPHIA'S CHOICE

Bright patent accents made Fendi's monogrammed Zucca print bag—brought back to life this season—the handbag of choice for Sophia Loren in the 1950s.

Svend Lindbaek (styled by Bettina Budewig for Workgroup); archival images (clockwise): courtesy of Louis Vuitton; Farabolfoto; courtesy of Fendi; see Shopping Guide